

Get paid for the data your business already has.

AI companies pay to license copies of real business records: emails, chats, and support tickets. Korra prepares yours, keeps it private, and finds the buyer.

You keep your data

You license a copy. Names and private details come out first.

No fees to you

The buyer pays Korra. You pay nothing.

$200K – $2M

Typical range. Your size, history, and records set the number.

As fast as 7 days

Usual terms are net 30, set in writing.

How it works

- 1 Tell us what you have
Five minutes. No files, no logins.
- 2 We prepare it and find the buyer
Records cleaned, private details removed.
- 3 You approve and get paid
Price and payment date in writing.

What counts as data

- Email
- Team chat
- Sales notes
- Support tickets
- Documents and SOPs
- Call transcripts

The most useful records show a whole task: what was asked, what your team did, and the result. Only records your business owns are included.

Is it safe?

Names, companies, and emails are replaced. Sensitive records stay out. Nothing moves until you approve.

What do we have to do?

Describe your records. Korra handles preparation and the buyer.

Do we give up our data?

No. You license one copy of past records. Buyers never get access to your systems.

Exclusive or not?

You choose whether others can license the same records.

Introduced by _____

Questions: info@korra.io

See what your data is worth.

Check your data in about five minutes, or book a 15-minute call.

korra.io/assess